

PR Company hopes to 'Net' cash for charity

Fellow people mingle at Harvey & Hugo's previous Netting event

A Darlington PR company is preparing to take on a challenge to make its money grow for charity.

Harvey & Hugo has entered this year's Evolution Corporate Challenge where it will help three deserving charities by hosting a Netting event at Prego in Darlington, Friday 20th May.

'Netting' is a networking event which aims to take the work out of Networking by creating social events in a relaxed, friendly atmosphere allowing people to mingle and drink cocktails while raising money.

The Evolution Corporate Challenge provides organisations with a £50 note and challenges them to raise as much money as possible over a period of three months, with all monies raised being shared equally between Hartlepool & District Hospice, Zoe's Place Baby Hospice and St Teresa's Hospice.

Charlotte Nichols, managing director of Harvey & Hugo said: "I think the challenge is a great way of raising money for the charities, the team at Harvey & Hugo are really excited and are constantly thinking of new ways in which we can raise more money.

“At the Netting event which is free to attend, we are hoping to sell cakes and cocktails with all of the proceeds going to the deserving charities.

“The challenge raised £33,700 in 2010 so we are really hoping to help Evolution LLP beat last year’s total”.

There will be an awards ceremony on July 19 at Wynyard Hall. Prizes will be presented for the team that raised the most money.

To come along to the netting event, just turn up at Prego Cafe and Wine Bar, 16 Grange Road, Darlington, DL1 5NG at 5.30pm or go to www.harveyandhugo.com or www.pregocafebar.co.uk for more information.
